Liberal Convention A Straight Liberal

Coleman Liberals Endorse a Labor Candidate W. A. Beebe May Come Out For Nomination.

At a meeting of Liberals at Blairmore on Thursday forenoon it was decided to place a straight Liberal candidate in the field, and W. A. Beebe is likely to be put in the fray.

Footballers Elect Officers

The first general meeting of the Blairmore Football Club was held in the council chamber on Wednesday night. The meeting was called at 9 o'clock, R. Bartlett acting as chairman and H. Pinkney as secretary.

The first business under consideration was the election of officers for the coming season when the following were elected: J. Menard, hon. president; H. E. Lyon, president; T. H. George, vice-president; D. C. Drain, second vice-president. Patrons—Messrs. F. M. Thompson, L. C. Giles, J. H. Farmer, F. E. Hinds, F. M. Pinkney, D. A. Sinclair, J. Graham, Dr. A. H. Baker, L. Dutil, W. P. Williams, W. A. Beebe, H. F. Hinds, J. A. MacDonald was elected treasurer, and J. H. Hinds secretary for the season. T. W. Hills was elected manager of the team. A selection committee was formed with the following members: King, Lyon, Brisco, MacDonald and Hills; Bartlett, Pinkney, Williams, MacDonald and Griffiths being appointed managing committee. After a few sundry items were disposed of the meeting adjourned.

Following the reading of this message, Mr. Cameron moved, and Carl Brummer seconded, that this convention endorse the stand of the north to nominate Mr. Powell as a "labor candidate" for this riding at the forthcoming election. After the room had been cleared of the Blairmore delegation, including the secretary of the meeting, the motion was put and carried.

The Coleman SIX and other delegates seemed sooped with third-handed and shaded information regarding Mr. Powell that they truly believed that Mr. Powell could not be anything but a Liberal since drawing a salary from the government, and at the same time not one per cent. of the electors could conscientiously state that they believed him to be anything but a Socialist; and after agreeing at an organization meeting held at Blairmore two weeks ago (which meeting is not yet adjourned) that unless they could put either a straight Liberal, resident in the constituency in the field, they would not contest the riding, they slum in the face of the major portion a proposition that had been framed up without their being consulted, a proposition that in the first place recommended a non-resident as a candidate and secondly a man who is not considered as a straight Liberal.

At 8 p.m. a public meeting was held at Coleman, when Alex. Cameron, J. W. MacDonald and others gave addresses.

PREMIER FIGHTS SECOND DUEL

First Conflict Lasted Thirty-two Rounds—This Only One Round Vienna.—Recently the Hungarian premier, Count Stephen Tisza, fought another duel with swords, this time with Count Aladar Szechenyi, a member of the Opposition in the Hungarian diet.

A week ago, it will be recalled, the premier fought a sword duel of thirty-two rounds with Count Michael Kallay, another member of the Opposition, who was very severely injured. That affray arose out of a quarrel at the Nobles Club, following Count Tisza's successful effort to break down

SORE FROM ELBOWS TO FINGERS

ZAM-BUK WORKED A MIRACLE OF HEALING

Reverend Gentleman Fully Corroborates

Miss Kate L. Dolliver, of Caledonia, Queen's Co., N.S., says: "I must add my testimony to the value of Zam-Buk. Ulcers and sores broke out on my arm and although I tried to heal them by using various preparations nothing seemed to do me any good. The sores spread until from fingers to elbow was one mass of ulceration."

"I had five different doctors, and faithfully carried out their instructions. I drank pint after pint of blood medicine, tried salve after salve and lotion after lotion; but it was of no avail."

"My father then took me thirty miles to see a well-known doctor. His photograph was sent to a New York hospital to the specialist; but they sent word they could do nothing further for me, and I was in despair."

"One day a friend asked me if I had tried Zam-Buk. I said I had not, but I got a box right away. That first box did me more good than all the medicine I had a year's cure for. I continued the treatment. Every box healed the sores from more until, to make a long story short, Zam-Buk healed all the sores completely. Everybody in this place knows my case, and that it is Zam-Buk alone which cured me."

Minister corroborates. The Rev. W. B. M. Parker of Caledonia Miss Dolliver's minister, writes: "This is to certify that the testimonial of Miss Dolliver is correct as far as my knowledge goes. I have known her for a year and know her cure effected by Zam-Buk is remarkable."

Wherever there is ulceration, blood poison, sore colds, skin eruptions, cuts, burns, bruises, or any skin injury or disease, Zam-Buk should be applied. It is also a sure cure for piles. All druggists and stores sell at 6c, per box, or post free from Zam-Buk Toronto, for price list. Refuse cheap and harmful imitations and substitutes.

COUNT STEPHEN TISZA

the obstructive tactics of the Opposition.

The second duel was the outcome of a letter written by Count Szechenyi to the premier, saying that he had, by an error, owing to the darkness, recently shaken the premier's hand on entering the Nobles Club. He would not have done so had he recognized him.

Count Tisza challenged Count Szechenyi to the duel, the combatants to fight to disability. At the first assault Count Szechenyi received a fierce blow on his head, upon which the doctors and seconds declared the duel finished.

The premier is likely to fight a third, having been challenged by Herr Deszler Polonyi, another member of the Opposition.

Dense Stupidity

Is that clock right? asked the visitor who had already asked the question. "No," he said. "That's the clock we always call the Visitor."

The obdurate one sat down again. The Visitor? he remarked. What a curious name to give a clock. His hostess ventured an explanation. You see, she cooed sweetly, we call it that because we can never make it go.

And even then he failed to see the point.

Dear Sirs.—We wish to inform you that we consider your MINARD'S LINIMENT a very superior article, and we use it as a sure relief for sore throat and chest. When I tell you I would not be without it if the price was one dollar a bottle, I mean it.

CHAS. F. TILTON.

The Dancing Season

The young lady was sitting by herself on a Chesterfield sofa. To her favorite admirer she said: "I thought you were a mind reader? I am, was the confident reply. The young lady's eyes swept the sofa by her side. She said: "I don't believe it!"

Mothers Value This Oil.—Mothers who know how suddenly gray may seize their children and how necessary prompt action is in applying relief, always keep at hand a supply of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, because experience has taught them that there is no better preparation to be had for the treatment of this ailment. And they are wise, for its various uses render it a valuable medicine.

Slight Misunderstanding

A man who hoped had bought some pigs, and he asked his neighbor for the use of a pen for a few days. I have just been purchasing them (three—two throw and a piglet). I want to put them in your pen till I can find a place for them. Two thousand pigs! exclaimed the astonished neighbor. Way, my pen will hardly hold a dozen.

You don't understand me, Mr. Bent. I don't say two thousand pigs, but two throw and piglet. I hear you said Mr. Bent. Two thousand pigs. Why you must be crazy. And the neighbor gave it up.

No man or woman should boggle painfully about because of corns, when so certain a relief is at hand as Holway's Corn Cure.

Her Habit

It did Jack no good to marry his stenographer, for she continued the habit of the office in their home.

How so?

When he starts to dictate she takes him down.

There is no place like home, which appears to be the reason why some men spend most of their time elsewhere.

DOG BETRAYED HIDING PLACE

Farmhand Picked in Case Is Sent on Train as Freight

Berlin, Germany.—Karl Korrelhaus, a farmhand employed at Koenigsberg has had a remarkable experience while traveling as portable goods, on the Prussian state railway, in consequence of which he is now under arrest.

Korrelhaus desired to regain his old employer, a priest living in the village of Garmisch, in Bavaria. Being without money, he conceived the idea of having himself nailed up in a packing case, and shipped by goods train.

He carefully prepared one, ventilated it, and took up his residence therein, with enough sausage, beer and bread to last for the two days' journey.

All went well during the first day and night of the journey, but on the morning of the second day the packing case had to be removed to another train at a junction, and was temporarily deposited on a station platform.

The stationmaster's dog scented the contents and barked furiously. This puzzled station employees finally broke open the packing case, found Korrelhaus, who thought he had arrived at Garmisch, and handed him over to the police.

She—Pardon me, sir, for walking on your feet.

He—Oh, don't mention it, I walk on them myself you know.

Don't Want the Squeak

I don't like those shoes you sold me, said the lady customer.

What's the matter with 'em? asked the shoe dealer.

Why, they squeak.

Is that all? Well, isn't that enough? If I'd wanted something that would squeak I'd have spent a little more money and bought a phonograph.

Minard's Liniment Cures Diphtheria

The self-imposed task of breaking the world's nine-hundred-year-old record has just been completed at Lithgow, N.S.W., by Walter P. Brent. He was at the instrument for 754 hours, beating the record, it is stated, by thirteen minutes. The performer finished comparatively fresh, though his face was drawn and his hands were somewhat swollen.

HER HEARING RESTORED

Astonishing Deliverance of Woman

NEW YORK (Special Despatch).—Fully convinced that her hearing has been permanently restored after years of torture with head and ears, and almost total deafness, Mrs. C. Barry of 552 W. 170th St., N.Y. City, has been persuaded to tell the story of her wonderful deliverance.

After having spent hundreds of dollars on mechanical devices, medicines and doctors' fees, she decided that this latest discovery, however simple and inexpensive, should be the last she would try before resigning herself to the hopelessness of permanent and total deafness. Those interested in Mrs. Barry's case and the hope it holds out for them, may write to her in confidence for full details, which she offers to send gratuitously.

A worried parent is sometimes obliged to do something like this: "Pa, what is a transcendentalist? Have you chained up the dog, as I told you?"

No, yet, pa.

Well, do that, and when you come back I will tell you what a transcendentalist is.

While Bobby was gone his astute parent dug the needed information out of a dictionary.

Yes. The heroine is a married woman.

Oh, I know. And falls in love with another man.

No. That's the original part of it. The play shows marriage to be a sacred relation that some people take seriously and get a good deal of happiness out of.

Really Useful

Pedlar (opening bag)—I have here, among an improved rat-trap, which—mistakenly, however—we are never troubled with rats.

We always buy our coffee roasted. Just so. Reversing the wires that form the upper portion, and bringing down the side flap thus, we have a device for holding eggs when cooking. We never eat eggs.

And by folding these wire loops, you see me doing now, it makes a handy arrangement for holding a mirror.

Haven't the slightest use for such thing.

By adjusting another small mirror in this position, and another at this angle, as you will notice, and placing it in a kitchen window, for example, it has the curious effect of enabling the observer, seated at one side of the window, and entirely out of sight, to see distinctly through any window that he is opposite, and to note what is going on inside, and all I ask for this most useful and comprehensive invention is three shillings and fourpence, which is only about one-half—I'll take one.

The Way It Goes

Only the brave deserve the fair.

Is that so?

That may be, but notice that it is only the rich who can afford the fair.

Mrs. Racey (as the hunter returns)—Were you in at the death, Jack dear. Jack (who has met with an accident) Is not? I shot out a sixty guinea hat, a ten-pound suit of clothes, and four trout teeth.

When a man wears a sew hat down the street, if a third of the men he meets are not wearing one like it, he feels like a jay, but if a woman sees another hat like hers she goes home, throws her hat in the corner and vows she will never wear the old thing again.

SPRING FASHIONS.

THE NEW COLOR CHART.

Mixed Materials to Be Modish For Street Suits—Contrasting Effects Good For Smart Costumes—Cotton Velvets and Crapes de Chine Seen to Be Most Heralded.

For suits this spring all the ribbed goods will be favorites—the Bedford cords, poplins, vigorous, diagonals and materials of this type. If it were possible to cut serge from its place at the head of the list it might be accomplished this season, for it is not as securely within the sartorial picture as it was formerly. All of these goods are very light in weight and very supple, so that the designer may drape or plait them, as fashion dictates. One of the new three piece suits in tulle poplin is completed with a coat whose skirt portion is plaited, while the skirt is draped both in front and in the back, but not more than six inches from the bottom.

WOMEN IN "CAGES."

A Reminder of the Days When Criminals Were the Vogue.

Fifty-one private letters of Dr. H. H. Hurlbut, physician to the prison, have been found in a box at the Howard Hall to form "The Empress Eugenie and Her Circle." A letter from Hurlbut (1850) describes the empress personally and discusses the fabulous amplitude of the dresses she wore:

"All this stuff is supported by a sort of skeleton of flexible iron. The empress is greatly attached to this cage, which to us seems very ungraceful and inconvenient. She sticks to it in spite of the quips of the emperor, to whom she simply replies that she does not know how she lived so many years without a cage."

"I can only find two excuses for this fashion. One is that women who wear it have their legs free in walking and are not hampered by skirts and petticoats hanging on their calves and thighs and impeding their movements; the other, in her case, is that there is a sort of harmony between the amplitude of the garments and the size of the apartments in which she lives. * * * Here a dozen women adorn the salon admirably and are in harmony with the wide spaces, the ample seats, the width and height of the doors. I knew nothing of this effect, which I now understand, and I now see why this taste—false in itself—has nevertheless a certain justness in its application."

STAGE HANDS.

From the Important Grip—Down to the Lowly Grip.

To the outsider the stage hand is pulled to every one that works behind the footlights except the players, but there is quite an aristocratic line of demarcation.

There are the stage carpenter and the assistant stage carpenter, who build scenery; there are the property man and the assistant property man, who make and shape all kinds of things out of paper make for properties and look after the furniture and decorations of the stage; there are the fly men, who manipulate the ropes at the top of the theater, hoisting and lowering scenery and also raising and dropping the curtain. The natural habitat of these fly men is on platforms up in the flies, many feet above the stage, and when not otherwise employed they have the disconcerting habit of audibly gossiping and playing cards. Then there are the electrician and his assistants, whose business it is to operate the lights.

The humblest of the regular staff is the "grip." This man handles scenery and does general utility work about the stage. When exigencies demand the force is added to from the roughest, who usually infest the stage entrance, sking out a miserable existence through casual jobs and "mooning" upon the members of the regular staff. Mary Shaw in London Strand Magazine.

The Inevitable Comment.

A committee of investigating scientists approached a lady.

"Madam," said the senior Prelate, the spokesman, offering her a magnificent chrysanthemum of rare and lovely hue—"madam, permit us to present this flower to you as a token of our high regard."

She clasped the splendid blossom in her tiny hand.

Breathlessly the committee awaited her response.

"How beautiful it is!" she answered. "What an exquisite shade of purple! I should love to have a dress of this color."

Dr. Prewins nodded knowingly to the committee, as if they knew so.

The committee waited at the professor and whispered, "You win!" Newark News.

The Pecan.

It is interesting to record that the first grafting of a pecan tree was accomplished by a negro slave, and it is doubtful whether any other member of the black race has ever performed an economic service to this country that is so sign in its importance. In 1847 Antoine, the negro slave of Telephone J. Roman of Louisiana, grafted sixteen trees of the variety that is now known as the Centennial. He later succeeded in grafting other pecans, and these were the only grafted nut trees in America before 1865—Archibald Rutledge in Outlook.

The Proper Way.

"I wish you wouldn't grow so much," declared the wife, an ex-actress.

"Why shouldn't I grow when the men are cold?" retorted the husband.

"You took me from the stage to be your wife."

"Then if you disapprove of the way I play the part kindly express your disapproval by means of kisses"—Kaukas City Journal.

Trials of Wealth.

"Wealth doesn't always bring happiness," remarked the youngster with the large spectacles.

"Now," asserted the other kid. "Look at me cousin yonder. He's got 2 cents, and he can't decide between lollipop and ice cream."—Milwaukee Post.

DEALING WITH A THIEF.

It Was an Unusual Method, but It Proved Effective.

Governor Thomas Chittenden of Vermont is remembered for his great kindness of heart as well as for his ability and force of character. He was the first governor of the state and lived in the liberal manner that befitted his office. His cellar, as was the custom of those days, was well stocked every fall with provisions.

One winter night the governor's rest was broken by sounds coming from his cellar. He left his bed quietly, and with a candle ready to light, made his way in the direction of the noise. As he reached the cellar he struck a light and saw a man taking great pieces of pork out of his meat barrel and stowing them away in a bag.

The governor approached the intruder and in a commanding voice said: "Go on, sir! Fill up that bag and be off. You ought to be ashamed of yourself to disturb honest people at this time of night!"

The thief shrank back, evidently much frightened.

"Be quick!" continued the governor. "It is no time to keep me shivering here!"

So stern was the governor's manner that the man was compelled to obey. "Now, begone!" went on Governor Chittenden. "When you are again in need of meat come to me and I will give you more. Do not pilfer my house at night. If I ever have the smallest reason to suspect you of another such act you will be punished for this offense as the law provides."

It is pleasant to know that the man came to the governor the next day to ask for employment, in order that he might pay for what he had taken, and that work was found for him, which he performed steadily and well.—Youth's Companion.

FATE OF OLD BOOTS.

The Only Judicially Accepted Ghost Story on Record.

Stromboli, the island volcano, known as the lighthouse of the Mediterranean, which is in violent eruption, once figured in a ghost story on record. In 1688 a Mrs. Hooty brought an action of slander against a certain Captain Barnaby for saying that he had seen old Hooty running into the flames of hell, pursued by the devil.

The words were admitted, but for the defense it was proved that May 15, 1687, the day of old Hooty's death, the captain, with a host of friends, was watching at Stromboli to shoot rabbits.

At about 3:30 in the afternoon two men were seen running toward the volcano. Captain Barnaby exclaimed: "Lord bless me, the foremost is old Hooty, my next door neighbor!" They then reached the famous, a fact of which every one took note.

In addition to the testimony of Captain Barnaby and his friends, old Hooty's clothes were brought into court and identified by several witnesses as being similar to those worn by the foremost runner into the crater.

The judge, Chief Justice Sir Robert Wright, was so impressed by this evidence that he said: "Lord have mercy upon me and grant that I may never see what you have seen. One, two or three may be mistaken, but not thirty."

Mrs. Hooty told the day, and the case still remains the only judicially accepted ghost story on record.—London Chronicle.

Family Complications.

Many ingenious complications in genealogy have been compiled, but the following one is the most elaborate.

As to time, place and people. It concerns a family living at Faversham, in Kent, in February, 1700. Old Hooty had two daughters by his first wife, of whom the elder was married to John Caslick, the son, and the younger to John Caslick, the father.

Caslick senior had a daughter by his first wife. This daughter old Hooty married and by her had a son, which led to the complication summed up in the following table, supposed to be spoken by Caslick's second wife:

My father is my son, and I am my mother's son.

My sister is my daughter, and I'm grand-mother to my brother.

Paternal Geometry.

A government, says a writer in the Twentieth Century Magazine, which tells you how to carry your umbrella, which forbids ladies who wear long hamples to enter railway trains, which fines you if you throw cigar stubs or papers on the street, which does not permit your children to make a noise so that others are disturbed—enough a government does indeed indicate liberty, but that as certainly it enlarges the common liberties and pleasure of everybody. The government thus enforces the liberty of Germany, which the writer quotes prefers to our "go-as-you-please" system.

One Use For Style.

The Whilfords put on a great deal of style, considering the fact that they hardly knew where they got to meet a woman's dress.

"Some method in their madness, though. The more style they put on the more apt they are to be lavished out to dinner."—Birmingham Age Herald.

THE MODISH HAT.

Evening Coiffures Style Never More Effective Than at Present.

The new hats are smaller and the smallest of them worn in the stylish way makes any woman look like a snooty, but nowadays no one objects to appearing unduly so long as she can be smart, and smartness means that she is beautiful, affable and different in manner. However, it is a consolation for a woman who will have none of this, or, rather, not too much, for

MARSHMALLOWS.

The Culinary Possibilities to Be Found in These Sweeties.

The housekeeper who has not tested the culinary possibilities of marshmallows has little idea of their many uses. For emergencies a tin box of these inexpensive candies is a good asset for the supply closet.

Should the supply of eggs give out when filling or frosting is wanted for a large cake, marshmallows may be substituted. While the cake is still hot place marshmallows torn in halves between the two layers and also on top of the cake. Spruce the cake in the oven for a few moments until there is an even layer of partially melted marshmallows over the cake.

For the afternoon tea table the plainest of little cakes topped with marshmallows and placed for a moment in a slow oven are transformed into French confections. Spruce cake baked in a tin sheet and cut in small rounds of the size of a marshmallow is an inexpensive substitute for the small fancy cakes of the caterer. Top each little circle with a half marshmallow and partially melt in a slow oven.

Decorate with a single nut, half a cherry or a cross marking of chocolate colored frosting.

If the material for fruit salad is scant cut marshmallows in quarters, using a well frosted pair of scissors. Equal parts of grape fruit, English walnuts and marshmallows mixed with half the quantity of diced pineapple make a salad combination well suited to a French dressing flavored with wine.

Ordinary chocolate ice cream is easily transformed into an apparently expensive novelty by adding a plentiful supply of quartered marshmallows when the cream is half frozen. If the chocolate is rich and dark these dull white particles make an effective showing and also add an unusual flavoring.

Marshmallows are also a good asset for the supply closet.

After the Blairmore delegates had decamped from the convention at Coleman Wednesday afternoon, the balance of the assembling sang "Absence makes the heart grow fonder"—of Peebe.

The Associate Boards of Trade of South Alberta are making a strong and praiseworthy bid to divert a goodly proportion of the main line immigration this year to the Crocus Nest Pass and contiguous lines. More power to their elbow.—Magrath Pioneer.

Blairmore is not alone "the home of the 'stormy petrel' for Magrath's aldermen and mayor have had a fight on for some time, and it yet looks as though there is no necessity of any more than one man to be a municipal council and run a town.

Blairmore Has a Post Office

As a place for many purposes the Blairmore post office takes the lead, and may yet crowd up a history which will be as amusing as the career of an unfitted candidate for an election.

About a month ago we went to the office one morning for mail and were compelled to return to our sanctum and slip on our rubber overshoes to wait for our letter-box.

Three days later the great prince of the heavens was good enough to melt the ice and snow of the roof and permit the place to dry up. Then the waiting department was delayed by boys and girls with a regular armament of marbles.

Three days later some parties were compelled to go to Brisco's and furnish themselves with ereasers or else put on their skates and glide merrily into the receiving department.

Three days later H. G. Berry had to go to Brisco's to purchase an umbrella in order to protect himself from a drenching threatened by the down-pour from the ceiling of the post office.

An Italian miner received a nasty gash on his hand three days later from the remnants of a door knob.

As a cool retreat in the boiling days of summer no place could be more recommendable than the Blairmore post office.

As a frequenter of the post office it seems that a person must be somewhat of a sportsman. He must be either a swimmer, skater, canoeist or mule jockey.

Who is responsible for such a disgraceful condition of affairs we are not ready to say, but surely there is room for improvement.

Juvenile Bostonians

"In Princess Chic"

A large portion of the success of "The Princess Chic" which is announced as the attraction at the Blairmore opera house, Thursday, April 8th, may be attributed to Flon Hellen and her charming soprano voice. There are other well known artists in the east which the "Juvenile Bostonians" have for this opera, but these artists most familiar with "The Princess Chic" claim that, like "Florodora" its success is not dependent in any degree upon those impersonating the roles. The opera itself is a romantic comedy bristling with repartee and epigram, and it is said to possess both in words and music all of the dash and beauty requisite.

The ceremony was conducted at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church; Rev. Father Murray, cousin of the bride, officiating. Mr. Kilgannon returned to The Pass on Wednesday evening and after a short stay will proceed to Calgary where he will start a home and await the arrival of Mrs. Kilgannon in two months' time to complete it. His many friends wish him the usual felicitations.

Juvenile Bostonians

Coming Next Week

The character of the "Princess Chic" in Kirk La Shell and Julian Edwards opera comique of that name in which Thom Hellen and the Juvenile Bostonians Opera Company are to appear at the Blairmore opera house on Thursday next is supposed to be the reigning sovereign of the province of Normandy during the period of Emp. XI of France. She's a sort of D'Arlequin, a dashing, daring woman, fond of hunt, very clever with the sword, something of a coquette, and, of course the most beautiful and bewitching creature in the province. The plot is liberally interspersed with fun, as a foil for its historical and literary interest. There are four comedians in the cast.

District Court in

Blairmore

The District court convened at Blairmore on Thursday forenoon. Judge Crawford presiding.

Several civil cases came up for hearing, some of which were adjudicated upon, while a number were laid over till the May session.

Before the close of the sitting on Thursday morning, Mr. Putnam, on behalf of the Bar expressed regret at the proposed departure of Judge Crawford from the Macleod judicial district and wished him all fortune in his new office in the supreme court at Edmonton.

Judge Crawford thanked Mr. Putnam and the Bar for their kind expression of appreciation and stated that his visitations to the Crocus Nest Pass were amongst the most pleasant in his judicial career, and hoped that the same treatment that had always been accorded to him will be the lot of his successor, Judge MacNeill.

Judge Crawford's present visit to Blairmore will be his last in the capacity of Judge of the District Court. His place will be filled by Mr. E. P. MacNeill, but recently appointed to the position of District court judge.

The name of Thomas Fraser should appear among the list of patrons of the Blairmore Football club on another page of this issue.

 To make a speech somewhere.
 Auntie's gone to Washington
 A mistress to be
 And in our net there's just the cat
 And father dear—and me!
 Sister Mary has gone away
 Upon a stunning tour
 Grandma's down somewhere in town,
 Encouraging, sure.
 Cousin Nanny has sailed for France;
 Ambassadors are there.
 There's no one round to make a sound
 But father dear—and me!

Yet years ago—pa tells me so—
 There was some use for men.
 They ran things, too, like women do.
 I wish that I'd lived then!
 I'd give my coat if I could vote
 And feel like a free man!
 I guess, for boys like me!

Found.

The funniest Scotch story we have heard for a long time is this heretofore unprinted one about a local golf player
 —a professional who acts as instructor at one of our clubs. This unskilled fellow entertained a brother from across the sea recently, and they immediately arranged an eighteen hole match. On one side of the course there is a railway embankment.

Over this railway it happened that Jack drove his ball. They lunched for it a long time, but could not find it.
 Sandy wanted Jack to give it up, but Jack wouldn't, for a lost ball means a lost hole. And finally Jack took a new ball from his pocket, dirtied it and pretended to find it.

"Here it is, Sandy!" he called.
 "You're a leaver, Jack!" responded Sandy.
 "I'm no leaver. Here it is!"
 "You're a leaver, for I've had it in my pocket for fifteen minutes!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

 the morning after her arrival, accom-

 "I'm going to leave you, mum, today.
 I don't stay any longer."

"Going to leave?" cried Mrs. Allen in amazement. "Why in the world are you going to leave so soon?"

"Well, mum," said the girl, "when I came yesterday morning you gave me the keys to your trunk and drawers and a few cents to take for tea."

"Why, yes, so I did," said the mistress. "That showed that you trusted me. What is the matter?"

"Well, yer see, mum," said the servant, "they don't one of 'em did."

Obvious.

"My husband has deserted me, and I want a warrant," announced the large lady.

"What reason did he have for deserting you?" asked the prosecutor.

"I don't want any lip from you. I want a warrant. I don't know what reason he had."

"I think I understand his reason,"
 said the official feebly as he proceeded to draw up a warrant.—Exchange.

HE ANSWERED THE AD.

But It Is Doubtful if the Advertiser Appreciated His Efforts.

A VENERABLE New Yorker recently advertised asking any one who wished to go to Europe under pleasant auspices to apply to him and giving his address. This advertisement was seen late one night by a young man who had been dining freely. He explained awhile and then the addressee called a taxi, into which porter and chauffeur boisted him. He told the man to drive to the address given in the advertisement. Arrived there he was assisted to the sidewalk and, with much dignity, ordered the chauffeur to pick up the knocker of the old fashioned residence. The advertiser stuck his venerable head out of the window and bowed. "What do you mean by waking me up at this hour?"
 "Come I answer 'retirement'."
 "Well, sir, what have you to say?"
 "That's all. I've come to stay very sorry, but I can't go with you. Good night!"—Fun.

The Real Attraction.

Lord Roberts had promised to inspect a certain local brigade of Glasgow, and the authorities announced that they had for sale to the relatives and friends of the boys a number of tickets which would entitle the holders to a good view of the proceedings. At the last moment, however, owing to illness, Lord Roberts was unable to fulfill his engagement and there was a severe slump in the sale of tickets.

After the announcement had been made a small boy approached the secretary and asked for two tickets for his father and mother.

The secretary thought it only fair to make sure the boy was not buying the tickets under any misapprehension.
 "You know, of course," he said, "that Lord Roberts will not be at the inspection."

"Aye, but I disna matter," was the complacent reply. "It's no him they're comin' to see drillin' it's me!"—Learson's Weekly.

Kind Heart.

"So you spurn my affection, Gladys Montgomery," the enraptured young man said. "You have brightened my life.
 Henceforth ambition is stifled within my breast. I become an outcast, roaming hither and yon throughout the world, friendless and alone, eling out a miserable existence until the end shall come."

"Well," soothes the fair young girl,
 "always give me when you come to our back door. No matter how wild I marry, I shall instruct the servants always to give you a good meal
 when you beg it at the kitchen."

What a muted impression the rushes out into the gloom and murk of the night.—Chicago Post.

An Encore.

The author presented a copy of his latest achievement to a friend, inscribing it, "To John Blank, with the author's affection and esteem." Some time afterward the author picked up the identical volume to a second hand book store. He promptly purchased it and returned it to his friend, with the added inscription:

"This volume, purchased at a second hand shop, is re-presented to John Blank with renewed affection and reiterated expressions of esteem."—Lon-

A Figure of Speech.

Cyrus Townsend Brady, minister and author, is the essence of punctiliousness in the matter of good English.

The famous novelist was one day accosted by a man who was leaving his home, who said:

"I beg your pardon, sir. But do you know a gentleman who lives on this street with one eye called Williams?"
 "I can't say I do," responded Mr.
 Brady. "What is the name of the other eye?"—Boston Herald.

GERMAN PRAISES LLOYD-GEORGE

Believes Insurance Will be Beneficial to England, as it Has Been to Germany.

Berlin, Germany.—Doctor Kaufman,
 president of the Imperial insurance department, has given his views regarding the betterment of national and social conditions in England, which may be expected from the new insurance laws, which recently came into force. The president was careful to explain that he only spoke from his knowledge of German conditions, but that he expected analogous results
 in England.

There will be, thinks Doctor Kaufman, an enormous reduction in poor-law expenditure, in consequence of the insurance laws. "Thrift will be supported and nourished, and in millions cases created. It is a mistake to suppose that insurance will kill a desire to better one's conditions. In Germany insurance has implanted confidence in the future. It will also be so in England."

Secondly, insurance will result in the freeing of the people from their greatest fear. In consequence, there will be increased national happiness and higher standards of life and living in Germany for example, the consumption per head of population of rye,
 wheat and most nutritious cereals, the prices, has largely increased, the deposits with savings banks have enormously risen, and Doctor Kaufman believes that these indications of national prosperity are mainly attributable to the national insurance laws.

Economic development, of course, plays its part, but this development is furthered by the security which insurance in all its branches affords to the workers. Reasoning by analogy, similar results may be expected
 in England.

Thirdly, an improvement in the conditions of life of the worker means improvement in the quality of work done by him. This may be regarded as an industrial axiom.

Fourthly, the new English law will affect the lower strata of people, just as it has done in Germany. This strata hitherto were helpless, but now insurance and old-age pensions remove their most crying needs. Compulsion for these classes was hitherto necessary. In a few years will be witnessed a new life, new hopes and new ideals in these classes.

Finally, there is the improvement in national hygiene to be expected, except all the effects of the new law and other national diseases. The hygiene initiative of the insurance laws will be felt in the quality of the lowest classes in the state, but especially in the homes of the poor.

In Germany the worker's life has been prolonged; it will be so in England.
 Great sanatoria will rise in all parts of the country, climatically suitable, and the English may look forward to the complete stamping out of certain diseases which have hitherto ravaged the nation.

In conclusion, this high German official said the act of the coming probably not run smoothly, but with patience it will become an essential and indispensable part of the social life of the English people.

Disposition in Sweden when put under restraint, are fed almost entirely on bread steeped in wine. In less than a fortnight they lose: the heavy look and smell of liquor, and when liberated generally become total abstainers. In Russia a similar treatment is followed with good results.

She—How do you think the best time for her to be engaged?
 He—I should say just before she is married.

Cousins to Solomon

The story is told of a well-known traveler who on one journey was much annoyed by a pedantic bookworm, who forced himself upon him and made a great parade of his erudition.

The traveler bore it as long as he could, and at length looking at him, gradually said:

"My friend, you and I know all that is to be known."

"How is that?" said the man pleased with what he thought a complimentary association.

"I say that the traveler, you know everything except that you are a fool, and I know that."

 subject as follows:
 "If I were to speak to you of marriage

 say to it?"
 "Well, I should say never put off till

OLD PROSPECTOR
TELLS HIS STORY

HIS REAL TROUBLES STARTED
 WHEN RHEUMATISM GOT HIM

Plasters, ointments and sulphur were useless, but Dr. D. D. Kelley's Pills Made a new man of him.

Princeton, N. C.—(Special).—All over Canada people are telling of the greatest work Dr. D. D. Kelley's Pills are doing, and even in the rocky mountain fastnesses where nature hides her mines men are cured of curable and suffering relieved by the great "Canadian Kidney Pills." Wm. Murray, a sixty-year-old, who has tramped the frontier as lumber jack, rancher, prospector, miner, hunter and trader, and who has been all over the west, is one of these. Many a tale of hardship and danger he can tell, but his first real trouble came when rheumatism claimed him.

"I slipped on the mountain side and strained my kidneys and then my troubles all seemed to set in at once.
 I had nearly all the symptoms of Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuritis, Diabetes, Dropsy and Bright's Disease," Mr.
 Murray states.

"Then I broke out in a terrible rash that spread all over my body and kept me in tortures. I tried all sorts of ointments and ointments and sulphur ointment to start a little hide of my own. But it was all no use.

 dyspepsia, indigestion, liver and kid-

TELEPATHY WITH SISTER

Two Women, Miles Apart Decide to Kill Themself at the Same Time
 Time
 Geneva.—A very curious case of what is described as telepathy with a suicide is being discussed here.

Some people ascending the Salève
 by the funicular were startled to see an elderly woman walk to a ledge overlooking a ravine 400 feet deep.
 She was about to jump when her husband and jumped over the precipice.

The victim, who it was afterward discovered, was a widow named Mme. Simon, who had been greatly distressed because a younger sister, with whom she had lived, had for the last five months been a patient in a Geneva hospital.

Here is the curious feature of the tragedy. The news of the suicide did not become generally known in Geneva for several hours, but at about the time of the tragedy the woman in the hospital declared to the nurse that her sister was dead, and she did not wish to survive her. In the next day the absence she threw herself from the ward window into the street, and was severely injured that she is not expected to recover.

So far as is known no written communication had passed between the two sisters for a fortnight.

The Ford Motor Car is without exception the best all-round car on the market. A. W. Robinson is the local agent. For catalogues write W. G. Askey, Cowley, or the Ford Motor Co., Calgary.

Summer arrangements have been made by the Bible Class of the Presbyterian church, whereby the class will meet at 10 a. m. instead of 3 p. m. and thus give the members an opportunity of enjoying the afternoon to themselves.

Easter hats would be as much out of place at the present time as the franks over the giving of $35,000,000 towards the fighting force of the British navy, which is occupying so much of the Dominion government's time. Either can be done without.

A branch of the L.O. O. F. was organized at Magrath on Wednesday night of this week, by Grand Master Fairley, of Calgary, assisted by Grand Secretary Tisdale, Grand Treasurer Adams, and our old friend J. A. Tully. The degree team from Raymond did the fancy work.

Marshall is a Winner

The fifteen-round bout to take place last Saturday night, lasted only five rounds, when the hand of Dick Marshall ascended as the victor, Foley desiring that the bout conclude as he was suffering from an old break in one of his ribs.

In the first round Dick secured a heavy uppercut at Foley causing his nose and mouth to bleed considerably.

All through the entire bout Marshall proved his superiority over his opponent, in spite of the fact that Foley was considerably heavier. Foley was not at all in good trim, and needed considerable reduction of fat, but Marshall never appeared better.

A good preliminary was put on between Danny Dunlop and Gordon Gleave. This bout lasted six rounds and resulted in favor of the former.

The attendance was large. W. Tuttle, of Macleod, acted as referee while Messrs. Addison and Bower were judges.

Arrangements are being made for a match between Dick Marshall and either Eusignor Rogers, which will take place at Lethbridge about the 15th of April.

Postponed Auction Sale

The Auction Sale of Farm Stock & Implements advertised for Wednesday last, had to be postponed owing to stormy weather, and will be held on the ranch of Mrs. Mary J. Scott, Sunnyside, Alta., at 1 P. M. on Saturday, April 6th. Everything will be sold without reserve. For lists see bills.

The ball given in the opera house on Monday night, under the auspices of the Blairmore hockey club, was a most successful affair. About ninety couples attended and dancing was kept up until 4 a. m. Tuesday. The orchestra comprised Mrs. L. Thorne, Mr. and Mrs. Gunderson, and the music was exceptionally lively and pleasing.

The first annual ball of the Wellington Lodge of the Loyal Orange Association will be held in the opera house next Wednesday night and gives promise of being a brilliant affair. It is expected the attendance will be over the three hundred mark. A first class eight-piece orchestra has been engaged and the hall will be specially decorated for the occasion.

Misses A. M. Gibson and M. R. Cooper presented a very pleasing programme at the local opera house on Friday night last. The programme was of English and Scotch characters, and included impersonations, readings, character songs, classics, refined and entertaining comedy and pathos. The work of Miss Gibson as an impersonator and character artist brought forth considerable praise, while Miss Cooper left nothing to be desired in the way of music.

The basket social given in the Mission hall last night proved a success even beyond all expectations. A musical programme preceded the sale of baskets. The programme was well rendered. Baskets realized good figures and so many were on hand that only a few of the poor bachelors "were sent empty away." ## Something That You Never Seen Nor Even Heard of

A PARISIAN NOVELTY.—In Europe it is used this year as a little Easter Present or rather a mark of courtesy to friends and relatives. Its value has a token lies more in the novel idea than in the price of the article. It is arranged so that it can be sent, just like post card, for a cent or two, to any place in Canada or the United States. The underlying idea about it, is the embedded luminous cross, which will shine all night long (or in any dark room) in a glorious, mystic blue light, after you had it exposed to daylight for a few minutes; the price is so low that anyone is enabled to be convinced of its real nature. It is indeed an article which is held in highest esteem by any Christian family or person. The shining cross is made of a stone, which is found only near Jerusalem and of which already the Bible speaks of the luminous stone in picturing Salomo's temple.

Prices are: 15 cents each, 2 for 25c, 5 for 50c and 12 for $1.00. A. Nelson, 832 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont. (Sole agent for Canada and U.S.)

Many sufferers from rheumatism have been surprised and delighted with the prompt relief afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of Rheumatism in ten requires any internal treatment whatever. This liniment is for sale by all dealers.

A ball will be given by Summit Lodge, A. F. & A. M., at Coleman this Friday night of this week.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its courtable cures of colds and coughs. It can be found in all drug stores.

Blairmore Band Gives Recital

On Wednesday night the re-organized Blairmore band gave a recital in the opera house, which proved to advantage that Blairmore possesses a musical combination of which we may well feel proud.

The large opera house was filled to the doors, showing the appreciation by our people of the work being done under the direction of band-master T. Claria. We understand that he purports giving a series of recitals to raise funds to defray expenses connected with the formation and upkeep and there is no doubt but that their entertainments will be well patronized and ample returns realized.

The band committee is composed of the following gentlemen: H. B. Lyon, R. Green, C. J. Pegg, E. Morino, F. Ciccioli and J. H. Farmer.
